COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

A mention was made in this column last week regarding work to be done on the Community Building. In addition to the work mentioned, the porch on the side facing the parsonage will be removed as it is in rather poor condition. On the front of the building a new porch will be erected in a few days but will be only over that portion of the building that houses the fire equipment. The porch will not be replaced over the Community Room. However, there will be a cement slab to take the place of the porch floor. This work is being done by the Highway Department.

Catch basins on several of the streets were in much need of repair. The ones that were in the worst condition have been rebuilt and new tops set in place.

Sincerely yours,

Harold L. Bean

WELL-KNOWN SPEAKER TO OPEN UNIVERSALIST SOCIETY SUMMER SERIES

A graduate of Harvard Divinity, Dr. Howlett is the author of two well-known books, outstanding in their field, "Man Against the Church," and "Essences and Christianity," an authoritative work on the Dead Sea Scrolls. The book, a selection of the Pulpit Book Club, is now in process of translation, the publication rights having been purchased by a French firm.

Dr. Howlett is a recognized authority on the Dead Sea Scrolls. He has lectured widely on the subject.

Miss Margery Bailey of Winsted, Conn., a former teacher at Gould Academy, was calling on friends in town last Friday.

The MEC will meet Monday evening, July 8, at the home of Mrs. Katherine Bennett, with a potluck supper at 6:30. All Rebekahs are invited.

Miss Helen Varner, Mrs. Elizabeth Lord, Mrs. Gladys Guernsey, Mrs. Ruth Hastings, and Mrs. Ethel Ward are attending the summer session of Farmington State Teachers College.

BETHEL MAN WINS NEW PONTIAC IN CONTEST

Colvin F. Haskell of Bethel has been informed that he has won a new 1957 Pontiac.

Terminal Garage, Inc., Norway, Pontiac dealer who sponsored the contest locally in cooperation with Pontiac, informed Mr. Haskell personally that he was one of 100 persons around the country that had been selected to receive a new car in Pontiac's "Drive the Champ" contest.

Mr. Haskell entered the contest at the Terminal Garage, Inc., never guessing that he would actually win one of the 100 Pontiacs provided by Pontiac Motor Division. He qualified by test driving a new model, and by grading the car as to performance, riding ability, handling characteristics, exterior and interior appearance and quality, followed by a general comment as to his personal appraisal of the car in 25 words or less. An impartial committee selected Haskell's summation of the Pontiac as among the best.

Pontiac has 25 sales zones in the U. S. and four new cars were awarded in each zone, along with hundreds of valuable prizes awarded by individual dealers.

WEIGHT CONTROL GROUPS IN PROGRESS

Two weight control groups are now in progress in the Oxford County Extension program. Twenty-nine women in the Norway area and 15 in the Rumford area have started a 12-week program on weight control. Three groups meet one hour a week for 10 weeks. Each one is weighed in, checks the weight, and spends the remainder of the hour at a meeting which includes some discussion, exchange of ideas, and subject matter. During the past week Mrs. Ethel Manchester of the Maine Dairy Council met with the Rumford group, and Mrs. Dorothy Woodcock, State Nutritionist, met with the Norway group. Mrs. Manchester discussed the importance of milk in the diet, and Mrs. Woodcock, the foods which furnish iron to the diet.

W. C. Paul, Jr. has returned home after spending two weeks with his grandmother, Mrs. Miriam Hayes, in Portland.

WHITE BIRCH SHADE TREES SUFFERING FROM INSECT DAMAGE

White birch shade trees in Maine have been suffering from the ravages of tiny insect known as the birch leaf miner. The insect mines between the lower and upper leaf surfaces of birches, causing the leaves to turn brown as though scorched. Another attack from the insect may be expected during July. Lewis P. Blasell, Extension Service forestry specialist, recommends spraying with Lindane according to directions on the package. Also, shade trees might be fertilized for added vigor. Repeated defoliation caused by the birch leaf miner will weaken trees but probably won't kill them.

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION URGES SAFEKEEPING OF SEPARATION PAPERS

Approximately 150 veterans each month who apply for Veterans Administration benefits in Massachusetts have lost their discharge or separation papers. M. L. Stoddard, Manager, Veterans' Administration Center, Togus, estimates,

Although a veteran may be able to obtain a certificate in lieu of his lost discharge or a copy of his separation papers from his branch of service, often this takes considerable time, Stoddard said.

"Veterans can save themselves both time and trouble by taking proper care of their discharge and separation papers," Stoddard said.

The best way to assure the safety of your separation papers, Stoddard pointed out, is to:

(1) Have photostats made, including one in wallet-size that can be always carried with you.

(2) Have them recorded at your county courthouse and returned to you; then you'll always be able to get a copy when you need it.

(3) Keep the original papers in a safe deposit box at a bank or in a strong box at home; and

(4) Make sure that your family knows where the papers are kept, so that in case of emergency they'll be able to find them without delay.

NEED GOOD FARMING

It's important to have a good farm, but even more important to be a good farmer. Oxford County Farmers Home Administration supervisor serving Oxford and Androscoggin counties says he made the remark while discussing the progress of local farm families who are paying off the 250 farm operating loans his agency now has on its books.

Making definite plans for planting at proper time and timely harvesting of these crops is an aid to good farming, he said.

The agency makes operating loans to help family type farm operators do profitable farming. Its loans and services supplement, but do not compete with, those of private or cooperative lenders. Necessary planning help and aid in working out farm management problems are parts of each loan transaction.

The attitude of the spectator is not enough. Spectators of life are not those who will fight to retain their liberties.

Q—Were there any basic principles debated in the Constitutional Congress upon which there was no dispute and unanimity of agreement?

A—Yes. There were six basic principles upon which there was no recorded dispute. 1—All States would be equal; 2—All persons were to be equal before the Law; 3—There would be three branches of government, one to make the laws; another to execute them and a third to settle questions of law. 4—The Government is a government of laws, not men; 5—The People can change the authority of the government by changing the constitution, and 6—the Constitution, the Acts of Congress and United States treaties are the highest law, over and above any State law.

Q—Can a member of Congress transmit free mail to any foreign countries?

A—Yes, to most countries in the western hemisphere, except Air Mail. Two exceptions are Argentina and Brazil. The courtesy to U. S. Mails are also extended to the reciprocating countries for their congressional members.

Q—Is there a large box-like structure in the basement of the Capitol covered with a black cloth. Can you tell me what it is?

A—It is a catafalque originally intended for the permanent tomb of George Washington. Washington, however provided in his will for burial at Mount Vernon. The catafalque was used in 1865 to support the casket of Lincoln and has since been used for every person laid in state in the Capitol rotunda. It is kept in the sub-basement directly beneath the rotunda.

Q—What is the oldest Federal Building in Washington?

A—The White House, begun in 1792. It was not quite finished in 1800 when John Adams moved in as the first occupant. The interior and part of the walls were destroyed by fire by the British in 1812. It was rebuilt immediately and then was not touched except for minor repairs until 1901-02 when President Truman had it completely renovated, even to new foundations, but retaining lines of original design.

Q—Can you brief us on the new regulations for out-patient treatment of veterans with service-connected disabilities?

A—The new system went into effect January 1, 1967 in all states except Oregon, California, Colorado, Michigan, North Carolina, South Dakota, Washington, Wisconsin, and Hawaii where the starting date will be July 1, 1967. It will affect about 40,000 doctors and 67,000 veterans. Here are changes:

1—Doctors will get annual treatment authorizations, instead of submitting monthly requests; 2—Doctors may submit quarterly, instead of monthly reports; 3—Doctors may submit monthly bills of own bills instead of VA forms; 4—Veterans will get travel authorization for entire treatment period instead of monthly travel authorizations.

Q—What is the deadline for a GI home loan or purchase of a house for a Korean veteran?

A—January 31, 1968.

Q—What is a Congressman-at-large?

A—if a decennial census shows that a state is entitled to additional representation, unless the state redistricts, the additional representatives are elected at large—i.e. they do not represent any particular district.

Q—Can you tell me how the term "Silbaster" originated?

A—The word "Silbaster" was originally applied to a plunderer or a buccaneer, or adventurers who led private armed expeditions. From this general idea, the term has come to be colloquially used to designate organized obstructionist tactics in legislative bodies. It is the practice of deliberately taking advantage of freedom of debate in the Senate with a view to delay or prevent action on a measure under discussion.

Q—Is filibustering possible in the House?

A—No. Forcing a roll call may be possible, but even that method does not prevail against a drastic Rules Committee report prohibiting offering of amendments to a bill.

Q—My son has a scholarship granted by the Atomic Energy Commission. He also is eligible for benefits under the War Orphans education program. Can he keep his Atomic Energy Scholarship and also draw War Orphans allowances?

A—No. The monthly allowances under the War Orphans program would constitute a duplication of benefits paid from the Federal treasury. Such duplication is prohibited by law.

Q—Can you give me some figures on crop production in 1967? Also on the Commodity Credit Corporation crop holdings?

A—All farm production set an all-time record in 1966, 13% above the 1947-59 average, and 1% above 1952. Total livestock and livestock products also set an all-time high in 1966, 22% above the average and 11% greater than in 1952. Total surplus stocks pledged for CCC or CCC inventories on Dec. 31, 1966 was $2.4 billions. The latest figures as of Oct. 31, 1967 give total surplus of $3.1 billion. Cost of all government price support operations from Oct. 17, 1967 through December 31, 1967 was $1.96 billion. Government costs from Jan. 1, 1967 thru Oct. 31, 1968 was $2.86 billion, or a total cost of price supports to that date of $3.72 billion.

TELL US YOUR PROBLEM

AND LET ME PAINT IT ON TO HELP OTHERS IN SOLVING THEIR PROBLEMS

BY JOHN AND JANE STRICKLAND

WALTER HARRISON, R.F.D., Rochester, New York, was beginning to feel that his marriage may have been a mistake. His wife was no longer the happy, cooperative girl he had married twelve years before, and who had borne him two fine young sons. Instead, they didn't seem to agree so much of anything. He would explain his point of view only to find that she had one of her own. Even in small matters she wouldn't give in!

It came to a head one day when one of the boys wanted to wear a gay and large patterned shirt, tall out to Sunday School, while his mother wanted him to wear a shirt all of one color, and tucked into his pants.

That was a small matter. Why should she be so fuzzy about a few flowers on a shirt? Let the boy be happy. He spoke sharply to his wife about this, told her that she was acting foolishly, "plumb silly," adding that he "had so idea when he married her that she was so stubborn. If he had—"

The matter was settled by his wife crying—and the boy himself gave in. Walter didn't like that. A woman taking advantage through a few tears.

He left the house angrily. As he went down the street he ran across two little colored boys having a verbal fight. The last words of one of them was: "What you say I is, you is!" That made him laugh, and his anger was dissipated. And it also made him think that his wife was probably echoing the same sentiment.

He kept on thinking. He knew he had always been an arguer. His mother once said if he didn't have anyone to argue with, he would say something to himself and then dispute it.

He didn't go home until for dinner. There was the usual well-cooked, well-balanced meal on the table. Walter was particular about balanced meals. As he ate in silence, he decided he would stop arguing. Certainly about such small matters as flowers on a boy's shirt.

The next day that resolve was strengthened by being carried out. And the next day, and the next. In the matter of a week or so, he and his wife didn't argue. Instead he looked back and saw that most of the things they had argued about were insignificant. Since that day he has several times told his wife that "it was a darned lucky day, the day I married you."

SUMMER VACATION TRAVEL

BRINGS ANNUAL BOOM

IN GAS TAX COLLECTIONS

With summer vacation time now at hand, Maine car owners, just during July and August, will drive some 235 million vehicle miles, consume about 65 million gallons of motor fuel, and pay an estimated $65 million in taxes on gasoline.

This is the prediction of Leroy T. Crowdon, Executive Secretary of the Maine Petroleum Association, on the basis of past trends in motor fuel consumption in this state.

Crowdon said that it was just 24 years ago this week that Maine highway users first began paying a tax on gasoline. Maine now collects about 15 times as much in taxes on gasoline during the two peak months of July and August as it did during the first full year the tax was in place.

It was pointed out by Mr. Crowdon that the first tax was imposed on July 1, 1931 at a rate of one cent a gallon and brought in $22,000 its first year. Now he said, the state tax, at seven cents a gallon, is expected to take in an estimated $232 million during 1957 while the three cent federal tax will swell the total amount collected within this state to an estimated $26 million.

"While the rate of Maine's general sales tax was increased to three percent on July 1," Crowdon said, "Maine motorists with a total tax of 10 cents a gallon have been paying the equivalent of a 49 cent 'gas tax' on gas for over a year making motor fuel one of the highest taxed commodities in the family budget."

HOOKED RUG EXHIBIT

The Sixth Annual Exhibit of Hooked Rugs by the pupils of Mrs. Annette A. Hill who is the certified Pearl K. McGowen teacher for this area will be held this year at the Brownfield Community Church in Brownfield, Maine, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, July 9, 10, 11, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

There will be a large wall hanging of historical interest picturing

La-Garza (meaning the Heron) which was the first ship to sail to Bermuda in 1615. This ship was captained by Juan Burmester, after whom the island was named.

A snack bar will be open throughout the exhibit by the ladies of the church circle.
